
Junior Designer/Production assistant/New Graduate

Posted by CindyV1 - 2008/06/30 10:21

Hi there,

My name is Cindy Vallance and I am a graduate of the International Academy of Design and Technology in Toronto, Canada. I have just moved to London to persue my passion in contributing to the fashion world. I am looking for any kind of design or production work located in the London area. I am very well known to my class and to my instructors for being extremely organized, passionate, hard working and, most importantly, confident in what I do.

I couldn't be happier in starting my new career because I love every minute of it. I am new to the UK and am not really sure where to go about looking and finding who I would most be an asset to. So I am writing with hopes that I am what someone might be looking for.

Thank you so much for reading my post and I hope that I can be the perfect person for you. I have a cover letter, CV and reference letters available for you anytime at your convenience.

Truthfully yours,
Cindy Vallance

=====

Re:Junior Designer/Production assistant/New Graduate

Posted by Sayeda86 - 2008/07/20 19:14

Hello, my name is Sayeda and I am a recent fashion graduate. My expected grade is 2.1 from croydon, higher education, which is validated by the Metropolitan University. I love designing for fashion and enjoy using photoshop and Illustrator to create Illustartions and technical drawings. I am able to create designs free-hand and also using CAD.

Working for your company would give an oppportunity to gain further knowledge and skills in working for the fashion industry and in return I will give my full commitment in the success of the business.

Kind Regards

(Email: Missk_60@hotmail.com)

=====