
Fed up with boring jewellery boxes?

Posted by tinks30 - 2008/06/30 19:09

I have just launched my own business called joya boxes selling innovative, stylish yet practical jewellery boxes. We have just introduced our limited edition sleeping beauty jewellery box which is simply gorgeous and is available to pre-order now (only 2000 available). I would love to know what you currently use as a jewellery box and what features you would like to see on future designs.

Your feedback will be well received so please take a look at the site and let me have your thoughts by emailing me at georgina@joyaboxes.com. You can also find us on facebook - you can leave feedback on our page by joining as a fan.

Thanks x
