
buy an emboirdery machine or a roll of labels?

I've never used an embroidery machine and don't know what the ones under Ã,Â£500 do.

I need regular batches of embroidered labels, and the going rate seems to be over 20p on a 500 minimum order.

Does anyone know if the cheaper embroidery machines write simple lettering or shapes on one inch tape? My particular labels are pull-tags for boots, one inch by five inches of a very long roll. The design would be in a single colour just under two inches long. I wouldn't want to spend more than a few hours making my 500 or whatever number.

Obviously a machine shop could advise me, but they'll tend to suggest the more expensive machines to any help to get me started would be welcome!

Hi have you reviewed our business directory and looked under embroidery machines and factories...you need to contact a cross reference of such suppliers and get feedback.

have you tried the Knowledge Dock at University of East London - they have printing machines there but I also think they have embroidery machiens too? Why not ring them up and see what they can offer. AS this is an educational establishment it will give you a mroe impartial answer too.

Good luck
