You are just the person we want to hear from....for lots of reasons.

First of all we have a section on our knowledge Bank (see Business) that is for shipping and also for export and import. We would like to feature you on this section of the site so you can become a lead specialist.

We are also just about to take 35 designers to New York and all of them will need shipping information in the future for orders into the USA plus they have deliveries from HK etc.

Can you please contact emily@fashion-enter.com and let's get this going.

Our site is huge with over 60,000 unique users each month. We also have a specialist section for our members and again this could be of interest to you too. For this brokering of work however we do have a standard 10% commission fee here.

Look forward to hearing from you
